In 1944, twenty-one Trappist monks left Gethsemani Abbey in Kentucky and embarked on a journey to the wilderness of rural Georgia where they founded the Monastery of the Holy Spirit. We are travelling to Conyers to visit this beautiful historic site. We will go on a self-guided tour of the museum, watch a 20-minute video on the history of the monastery, and have time to walk the grounds before the 12:15 midday prayer. We will also have time visit the store where the monks make their famous fudge, fruitcake, and biscotti. Then we will head into Conyers to eat lunch at Cafe Milano. Please RSVP by October 28, 2026. Charge: $20 trans. + Shopping + Lunch at Cafe Milano in Conyers. THIS TOUR REQUIRES A GREAT DEAL OF WALKING AND STANDING! Wear Comfortable Shoes!

Heaven Bound was performed publicly for the first time at the Atlanta City Auditorium in October 1930. An article in Time magazine dated August 10, 1931, stated the following, 'This is the import of almost every Negro spiritual; it is the import of a morality play called Heaven Bound which has made its appearance in Atlanta, performed by the choirs of Big Bethel African Methodist Episcopal Church. Its conflict is the effort of the Devil to catch pilgrims on their way to Heaven. You are invited to come and celebrate the 96th production of the longest-running play in North America.
